Mrs. Eliza Cook, mother of Mr. Geo. Cook, near Columbia, is seriously ill. She is near 80 years of age and a most estimable lady.

Monday was county court, but the weather being extremely cold, but few people came to town. There was some stock on the market and a few head of mules and horses changed hands.

County court day was a chilly proposition and as the result the attendance was light. Jockey street was about as quiet as any of the other avenue and trading in all lines rather on the dull order.

Whether the weather is bad or whether good let it be known and understood that you and your lady will both be there and enjoy the music so delightful and rare—court house, Thursday evening.

The editor of the News was invited to take Thanksgiving dinner with the bachelors who live high in Columbia, their dining room being just over the News, but unfortunately he was in Louisville that day. Arriving the following day he took a good supper which was highly enjoyed and we can truthfully say that there is as much real good eating going on over the News as any other publication in the State. We can recommend every one of them, five in number, to be unusually good providers, and such liberality has much to do in making a happy wife—we've tried it.

A Thanksgiving Dinner.

On a recent visit to Louisville I was an invited guest to a Thanksgiving repast and family reunion at Mr. and Mrs. John L. Warden's, parents of the charming and gifted Miss Nellie Warden who recently visited our dear little town. Miss Tippe Sanders, a well known and gifted artist of Louisville, and a nephew of Mr. Warden, a gentleman of fine morals and good business qualities were also present. Mr. and Mrs. Warden will have been married 40 years the 5th of April, 1906. They have four handsome stalwart sons, all successful business men of our great Metropolis. Three of them are married and have most charming wives. The eldest, Mr. Height Warden, has four bright children, two pretty daughters and two nice sons. Mr. Elmo Warden, the second son, is a gifted singer and artist; has two lovely children, a daughter and son. Mr. John Warden, the third son, is quite cultured with sparkling wit; has a wife that is a dainty little fairy and they are blessed with a beautiful little girl of two summers who entertained us with her bright and cute sayings. The youngest son, Mr. Wayne Warden, named for the county of my birth, is a very handsome and successful traveling salesman for the firm of Arons & Ott; a gifted musician and truly a typical drummer in telling laughable anecdotes, and last but not least, are the most charming and highly accomplished daughters, Misses Nellie and Florence Warden, who did the honors of the banquet. When we were all seated at the table I looked at Mr. and Mrs. John L. Warden and remarked what a well-preserved and happy couple the parents of such an interesting progeny and thought how wonderfully God had blessed their union.

I could never do justice to the exquisite dinner with my feeble pen, for they had everything the market of Louisville afforded, and we showed our appreciation by eating most heartily of all. It was an happy occasion and may the richest blessings of God rest on them in the future as in the past, is the earnest prayer of their guest and life long friend,

Would Not Live Alway.

At the ripe age of eighty-eight years Mrs. Charlotte Epperson, widow of Wm. Epperson, finished her life work last Friday, December 1st, 1905. She was loved by all her neighbors, her pure Christian life, endearing her to all who knew her. The funeral services were conducted by Eld. F. J. Barger, of the Christian Church, an organization the deceased had been identified with for years. As a test of her goodness and popularity many relatives and friends attended the services. The deceased is survived by three children, Mr. S. A. Epperson, Mrs. Jas. Holladay and Mrs. Sallie Holladay, all of whom have the sympathy of the entire neighborhood.

Miss Francis Lewis and J. Waller Johnston were quietly married last Wednesday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents. Last Tuesday the fire alarm was sounded in response to an alarm turned in from Morrison, Walker & Co's. Planing Mill. It was found to be only a light blaze caused by sparks igniting the trash between the ceiling and roof, which was extinguished after a few minutes hard work.

To Whom it May Concern.

Some one keeps circulating the statement that those who insure in the Farmers Home have to pay every time the company has a fire loss. This statement, whoever by, is a falsehood. The Company never has, nor never can make but two calls a year, January and July.

A Good Citizen Gone.

Mr. Waitsville Perryman, who was a native of Adair county, and who was a most excellent citizen, died at his late home, near the Russell Springs, last Saturday night. He was a gallant Federal soldier in the war of the rebellion, and as a citizen he was a kind and sympathetic neighbor. He was a friend to every body and every body was his friend. The surviving members of his family have the sympathy of the people of Russell and Adair.

Lost, but Found.

A few days ago Gov. J. R. Hindman lost his saddle and came into the News office to advertise for its return. The announcement was written and set, when the Governor returned to inform us that the saddle had been located.

He said: "I am glad I found my saddle and am willing to pay you for your trouble. I have had a little experience not common in the saddle line. A few years ago a saddle of mine, a new one, was stolen at the fair ground and never was recovered. Last year I lost this saddle out of my buggy while coming from Gradyville, but it was found by a good, honest man and returned to me. This time I felt that I had better advertise for it, and its quick return shows that even to attempt to advertise in your paper brings good results. 'Sir, I want to pay you.' Well, we did not accept remuneration, and feel glad that the lost was found."

SHELBY HART.

A Prominent Young Lawyer of Jamestown, Gone to His Reward.

HAD BEEN MARRIED ONE YEAR.

Last Thursday at 1:30 in the afternoon, the subject of this writing, after an illness of eight months, peacefully met his God. He was thirty years of age, and from his youth had led an exemplary life. When a boy he decided to become a lawyer, and was educated at Bowling Green for his chosen profession, and soon after reaching his majority he was admitted to the Jamestown bar and was enjoying a reasonably good practice when his health failed.

He was a man for whom everybody had the profoundest respect, and was a special favorite with his kindred and personal friends.

One year ago last month he was happily married to Miss Corinne Jones, of Jamestown, who has been a loving wife, and who survives him.

The funeral oration was delivered in the Christian Church, Jamestown, Saturday forenoon, by Judge W. S. Stone, of Monticello, who spoke tenderly of the life and character of the deceased. At the conclusion of Judge Stone's remarks Messrs. O. B. Bertram and Lilburne Phelps, members of the local bar, made short talks eulogizing their dead associate.

No death has occurred in years that brought more profound sorrow to the people of Russell county, so highly was the departed estimated.

The deceased was a Royal Arch Mason, a member of Columbia Chapter, No. 7, and he was buried with the usual formalities of the order, many relatives and friends witnessing the last sad rites.

In the departure of this excellent and useful young man, the world has been made poorer, the hearts of parents, brothers and sisters made sad, a devoted wife left weeping for him she lovingly gave her life into his keeping. Sympathy for Russell county, love and tears for those who are so sorely bereft.

Resolutions of Respect.

The following resolutions were passed by the M. & F. High School on the death of Miss Carrie Johnson:

Whereas, God in His own mysterious way has deemed it wise to call one of our number unto Himself, and thus leave a vacant seat in our classroom, be it resolved:

1. That we, the teachers and pupils of the M. & F. High School, feel deeply the loss sustained by us in the sad death of Carrie Johnson.

2. That, we realize one of our brightest and most obedient pupils has gone out from among us forever, and by her early death saddened the hearts of her teachers and schoolmates.

3. That, We, as a school, tender our heartfelt sympathy to her bereaved family and friends and commend them, in their sorrow, to Him who "doeth all things well."

4. That A copy of these resolutions be sent to the family and a copy be given each of our county papers for publication.

Some time ago there appeared in the Adair County News a letter from Arkansas. It was interesting from start to finish but the sentiment it gave out, the main impression being that of a political swing, in the wrong direction. I ask space in your valuable paper to answer in the following short way: The writer of that letter is indeed my uncle, a good man and a high-toned gentleman, but unfortunately a republican. The little victory his party won here in Adair was sufficient to make him feel good and I am glad that he enjoys it, but it is my privilege to say that the democrats of Adair are as happy as larks, game as ever faced a foe and determined to win in the sweet by and by. The last fight scared the republicans high unto death and the next one will probably seal their fate. Now if my uncle would like to know more about a few things in old Adair I trust he will write me and then I will give him the finishing touch which I do not feel should be done through the News. I am a planing mill man and unaccustomed to writing for publication so I close trusting to hear from the gentleman whom this is addressed.

It will be remembered that Mr. T. J. Marcum, of Monticello, has been interested in fast going horses for several years. Every body who attended the fairs in this section remembers Old "Toney Boy," a trotter, fast but rattle brain. He was a horse Mr. Marcum owned and got some fast work out of, but not just what he really wanted. At any rate his owner, rather tired of uncertain speed under harness and turned his attention to the runner—a gait that is not so easily disturbed by a jockey. He now has three thoroughbreds and one of the best ones out this season. Felix Martin, a 4 year-old covered 3 of a mile on the Knoxville track, in 1.02, lowering the record for that track and within an 1/8 of a second of the worlds record for a half mile track. Mr. Marcum intends to beat the record next year. Felix Martin won every race he started in while in Tennessee. He won three in Knoxville and two in Kingston.

The Pianoforte Recital given by Prof. Ohlenmacher's pupils in the music studio at the M. & F. High School last Wednesday afternoon was a decided success in every particular. The recital was private—only a few of Prof. Ohlenmacher's musical friends and the faculty of the school being present. Eleven members of the class took part in the recital, and the manner in which they rendered the different numbers, proved beyond a doubt how carefully and methodically they had been taught. The splendid technique displayed was noticed above every thing. The occasion was highly enjoyed by all present and pronounced as one of the best recitals ever given in Columbia. The class recital to be given in the Presbyterian church in the near future, and the individual recital by Miss Cary Hughs on December 22, are events to which all music lovers are looking forward with much pleasure.

The Children's Delight.

When you consider the terrible times you used to have in childhood under the infliction of castor oil, salts and senna, brimstone and treacle, and other horrors, you can perhaps appreciate the children's delight with such a pleasant medicine for impure blood, stomach or bowel troubles, as Dr. Caldwell's (laxative) Syrup Pepsin. Besides being pleasant to take, it is unequalled by any other medicine in the wide range of its curative powers for nearly all children's diseases. Sold by Dr. J. N. Page, Columbia, and R. B. Wilson, Cane Valley.
